Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District (SMPDD), a 501(C)(3) non-profit, is the designated Area Agency on Aging (AAA) for the southern 15 counties in Mississippi. The AAA plans, coordinates and offers services, through state and federal resources, that help older adults remain in their own homes as opposed to an institutional setting. These services consist of home delivered meals, homemaker services, respite care, transportation, and other services designed to assist seniors to remain in a community setting. However, AAA funding does not cover all needs and our funding is limited so, many needy seniors are on waiting list for our services.

To address these issues, SMPDD has set up a Senior Emergency Assistance Program to assist with one-time assistance in emergency situations such as utility assistance, food disparities, bug infestations, and other emergency issues that low-income seniors face in South Mississippi. SMPDD has partnered with the Gulf Coast Running Club to help raise money to fund this program. Sponsorship opportunities are available at the following levels:
